Tuesday Primary Choices Problems For County Voters

Several hot contests, all in the Democratic primary, will feature this Tuesday's election. One is the race for the 6-year term of U. S. Senator now held by Joseph D. Tydings and challenged by George P. Mahoney, Charles D. White and Walter G. Finch. A second is the battle for the Congressional seat from the Fifth District between Royal Hart, Hervey G. Machen, and Richard E. Lee. Finally, there is the various alignment of slates for a series of county posts, including representatives in the General Assembly and the county commissioners (see charts on page 3).

Most of the Republican primary contests are uncontested. One exception is that for governorship, with three candidates competing — C. Stanley Blair, Peter James, and John C. Webb, Jr. Another involves the U. S. Senate seat between J. Glenn Beall, Jr., Wainwright Dawson, and Harry Simms. Harold Cross and Howard F. Widey are competing for State Comptroller.

Governor Marvin Mandel has token resistance in his party. Candidates running against him in the Democratic primary are William E. Roberts, Milton R. Rothstein, Dan W. Salamone, and George H. Wright.

Voting Information

The polls will be open on Tuesday, September 15, between the hours of 7 a.m. and 8 p.m. Greenbelt voters have three polling places: Center School (third precinct); North End School (sixth precinct); and Springhill Lake Community Hall (eighth precinct).

Voters can only participate in the primary of the party in which they are registered. Independents (unaffiliated) may not vote in primaries.

With 135 names on the Democratic ballot, voters are urged to cast their ballots early in the day. Election officials will enforce the 4-minute limitation allowed a voter at the machine.

Democratic registration in Greenbelt exceeds Republican registration by almost 2½ to 1. About 5,598 Democrats are registered in the three precincts and 2,398 Republicans. Excluding the 653 unaffiliated, there are 2,475 voters registered at Center School, 1,976 at North End, and 3,545 at Springhill Lake.

Three judges will also be chosen for the Circuit Court. Candidates include incumbents Samuel J. DeBlasis, William J. McCullough, and James H. Taylor and challengers J. Robert Brown, John A. Castagna, Richard E. Painter, and Harold J. Rogers.

Of local interest is the candidacy of several Greenbelters for office. On the Democratic side, these include Mayor Francis W. White and the Rev. Perry Smith for county commissioner; Joseph F. Meadow for State Senate; and Bruce Bowman, Rhea Cohen, Irene Hensel, George J. Panagoulis for Democratic State Central Committee and Thomas B. Ricker, House of Delegates. On the Republican side, Greenbelters Michael Gendel and Billie A. Nally are running for Republican State Central Committee.

Bike Contest

The Greenbelt Lion's Club reports the following winners in the decorated Bike contests, in which a new record of 114 children participated: Eric Lawson, under-4 year group; Ann Weber, 5-6 group; Shelly Newman, 7-8 group; Peggy Coin, 9-10 group; Randy Krob, 11-12 group.

Each winner received a first-place trophy. All the other contestants received individual prizes.

Contest Winners

Winners of the Special Contests for the Labor Day Festival are as follows:

Balloon Burst (pre-schoolers): Douglas Neumann, Kenny McNamara and Diane Bodner, Mike Stickel;

Bubble Gum Contest (ages 6-8): Jim Vanderzon, Donna DeCuir, Francis Lipscomb;

Sack Balloon Race (ages 13-15): Charles Walker, Judy Johnson, James Goad;

Three-Legged Race (married couples): Margaret and Greg D'Esposito, Joan and Ray Carroll, Carol and Richard Castaldi;

Diaper Derby (crawlers) Patrick Hankey, Donal Schickler, Kenny Reamy;

Frisbee Toss (ages 11-12): Mike Moriarty, David Spiegelthal, Carl Zoellner;

Pie Eating Contest (ages 16-18): Derrel Smith, Scott Powell, Ronnie Newkirk;

Watermelon Contest (ages 9-10): Daniel Walker, Teresa Eastham, Karen Sylvester.

School Closing Schedule

The public schools of Prince Georges County will be closed for pupils on Monday afternoon, September 14, so that members of the professional staff may participate in an in-service education program in the afternoon, advises Dr. Carl W. Hassel.

Four half-day sessions have been scheduled in the 1970-1971 school year for the In-Service Training Program for the professional staff: September 14, January 27, February 17, and March 17. On these days, the dismissal time for pupils will occur after the normal lunch period. In dismissing, the schools will follow this schedule:

1. Schools which begin at 8 a.m. may dismiss at 12 Noon.
2. Schools which begin at 8:30 a.m., may dismiss at approximately 12:15 p.m.
3. Schools which begin at 9 a.m. may dismiss at 12:45 p.m.
4. Schools which begin at 9:30 a.m. may dismiss at 1 p.m.

This procedure applies also to the half-day sessions scheduled for the last three days of school for pupils (June 8, 9, and 10,) or to all half-day sessions.

The Prince Georges County public schools will also be closed on September 15, Primary Election Day, for pupils and all personnel.

Miss Greenbelt, 1970

Beth Wilkinson was crowned Miss Greenbelt 1970 by last year's Miss Greenbelt, Debbie Freeman, on Sunday night at the Festival. Runners-up were Dorette Ahmay and Mary Ann Eisler. (Details in next week's News Review.)

Children's Art Show

The Labor Day Festival Children's Art Show last Sunday had a large number of entries and was well-attended. The judge, Jack Dillinger, was particularly pleased with the quality of the entries submitted in the elementary school age category. The best entry in each age group was awarded a $25 Savings Bond, donated by Suburban Trust Co. The first and second place winners in each of the six categories received $3 and $1 each, respectively. The best age group entries and the first place winners will be displayed in the Greenbelt Library until October 1, after which they may be picked up from the Children's Librarian. Children with other entries who did not pick them up on Sunday should call Mrs. Lange, 474-0559.

Registration and arrangement of the entries were ably done by Mrs. Evelyn Boggs, Mrs. Sandra Bracken, Mrs. Burchick and Mrs. Susan Lange. Others assisting were Mrs. Helen Chew, Michael McNamara, and Edward Crays.

Elementary School Age Group: Best of Age Group: Eric Crabtree. Painting: 1st: Mark Crabtree; 2nd: Joanne Hardy; 3rd: Maureen Raimist. Honorable Mentions: Wendy Crabill, Eric Crabtree, Mark Crabtree. Entries other than paintings: 1st: Mark Harris; 2nd: Jeanne Harris; 3rd: Dawn Olverson. Honorable Mentions: Peter Bracken, Kathleen Kyle.

Junior High School Age Group: Best of Age Group: Nancy Weintraub. Paintings: 1st: Michelle McGee; 2nd: Nancy Weintraub. Entries other than paintings: 1st: Eric Field; 2nd: June Davis; 3rd: June Davis.

Senior High School Age Group: Best of Age Group: Susan Brown. Paintings: 1st: Barbara Baluch; 2nd: Denise Winsky; 3rd: Carol Foxwell. Entries other than paintings: 1st: Carol Foxwell; 2nd: Debi Clark; 3rd: Patty Shaughnessy.

Talent Contest Winners

Six acts were presented to a large audience on Saturday night, September 5. Nine year old Marsha McKenney was awarded first prize for doing a tap dance. Janet Barrett, doing a Hawaiian dance, took second place honors.

Seven acts were presented Sunday, September 6; to the largest audience ever. First prize winners were the "Dancations"; second place to a teen "Folk group", which included Beth Wilkinson, Liz Anderson, Julie Heizer, Angel Flood, Terry Pisano, Tedd Cowell, David Rosetti, and Carlos Oliva. Other talented youngsters and teens who participated are following: Kim Robbins, Dorothy Tastet, Tim and David O'Keefe, Dana Peterson and brother Chris, Tamara Peterson, Lawrence Williams, Dory Schwarz and Margaret Allen.

Judges for the contest were Mrs. David (Ann) Kelley, Mrs. Howard (Eunice) Coxon, and Steve Opsasnik. The Master of Ceremonies was Jack Maffay and the Chairman was Mrs. Elizabeth Maffay.

Lakeside Residents Debate Parcel 15 For School Site

by Elaine Skolnik

By a close vote, the Lakeside Citizens Association at its Sept. 1 meeting, after holding an extended discussion on the merits of various sites for a senior high school, turned thumbs down on parcel 15 as well as parcel 2. Presenting various viewpoints to the group were Col. Elliot T. Robertson, Director of Management and Planning for P.G. Board of Education; Lester Wilkinson and William Busby of the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission staff; Mayor Francis White; and city manager James K. Giese.

The Association, by a 12-11 vote, adopted a motion proposed by John Bogumill that it seek agreement with other interested groups in Greenbelt to support a senior high school on a site other than parcels 2 and 15. An amendment sponsored by George Beauchamp, which would have deleted parcel 15 from the motion, was defeated 15-9. The Association's executive board was asked to take a written poll of all Lakesiders, numbering about 120 families, seeking their site preferences.

Concern Over Parcel 15

Parcel 15 is between Greenbelt Lake and Greenbelt Road alongside the Capital Beltway. Abutting the property are the Charles-towne Village and Charlestowne North apartments, but Lakeside residents have expressed concern that their subdivision will also be affected by pedestrian and car traffic generated by a new school.

Another area of concern is the effect of the school on the nearby lake park development. To assure a third access to parcel 15 (the other two being the American Legion service entrance, and Prince James Way), tentative plans call for a road across the dam connecting Crescent Road and the site. This would cut off a segment of the park area.

In addition, fear was expressed that the land now reserved for parkland around the lake on parcel 15 would be developed for school board use. Parcel 15 consists of 32 acres (including three acres bordering the lake and recently purchased by the city for parkland). Giese said that land would be retained as a buffer.

School board officials raised another objection to parcel 15. Robertson said that parcel 15 really only offers about 25 acres when the buffer and the tail at the southern end of parcel 15 near Greenbelt Road are excluded.

Mayor White said, however, that when parcel 15 was previously considered four years ago the city had proposed making available some five acres of land west of the lake for school board recreational use, thus providing a total of 30 acres.

New Criteria

Robertson said that the criterion now used for a senior high school is 40 acres. When it was pointed out that other senior high schools in the area, such as Parkdale, High Point, and Duval, have less than 30 acres, Robertson said he wouldn't want to perpetuate the conditions existing at these schools.

White complained that this shifting of criteria was what continually happened to the city when it started talks with the school board. Back in 1965 when the school board started condemnation proceedings on parcel 15, White said, the school board said that all it needed was "25 acres. Then it was 25-30, and now it is 40." As another example, he cited the figures worked up by the city for the grading and site elevation for parcel 15. When the city took the figures to the school board, it was told that the criteria had been changed and another base elevation was needed.

Traffic Effects

President Ben Goldfaden of the Lakeside Citizens Association expressed concern that Greenbelt students driving to school would use Lakeside Drive. White thought that Westway would more logically be used because it was shorter. Furthermore, this problem could be handled he said, by making Lakeside Drive one-way in the opposite direction during peak school hours.

In any event, Giese observed, most school traffic would be from out-of-town and would use the direct access (Lakecrest Road) from Greenbelt Road. By way of contrast, both White and Giese noted that all out-of-town traffic would have to go through the center of Greenbelt if parcel 2, which is located between Ridge Rd. and the Baltimore-Washington Parkway, were chosen. However, Giese admitted that the school on parcel 15 would engender walking traffic through some Lakeside courts such as Olivewood.

Mention was made of the fact that when parcel 15 was first suggested for a school site in 1964-65 the surrounding land had not been fully developed. Goldfaden expressed concern over the safety hazard to small children in Charles-towne Village.

Parcel 15 Support

Mrs. Priscilla Rosetti observed, however, that most of the Lakeside subdivision had been constructed by 1965 and that she herself had circulated petitions at that time for parcel 15 which were overwhelmingly supported by Lakeside residents. Mayor White confirmed this, adding that city council has always favored parcel 15 and no one ever questioned the site publicly until a month or so ago.

Others pointed out some of the advantages of parcel 15 over parcel 2: two access roads, no school buses required to go through town. See SCHOOL SITE, p. 3, c. 2

The Greatest Ever

The smiling faces we saw everywhere matched the smiling weather, and altogether the Greenbelt Festival weekend was the greatest ever. That was our own assessment, but we kept hearing it also on every side. The parade was the biggest, the longest, and the most diversified of any we've ever seen in this city. And, judging from the number of state and county politicians who joined in, this is the prestigious place to flaunt one's name on Labor Day.

Crowds for the parade and throughout the Festival were gratifyingly large. Former Greenbelters and folks from neighboring towns seemed to turn out in abundance, and everyone you ever knew in town seemed to be there.

The committee in charge of the program should be especially commended for the variety and interest of the events. Many traditional programs — like the talent show, the pancake breakfast and the athletic contests — were as much fun as ever; but there were some pleasant innovations too — the reception for former residents, the horse show, the helicopter rides. We haven't space to list them all. Merely printing the schedule of events in last week's paper took two full pages — the biggest we've ever run.

Surely that proves, in black and white, what we started out to say: this was the biggest Festival ever. That it was also the happiest, the most interesting, the greatest Festival in Greenbelt's history is perhaps reward enough for the hard-working Festival committee, who can look back with satisfaction on a job well done.

But from the rest of us a special tribute seems in order. So here it is, in a deafening roar —

THREE CHEERS FOR THE FESTIVAL COMMITTEE.

"Civilisation" Film Series Begins Monday at Library

The "Civilisation" series of 13 films produced by the British Broadcasting system and written and narrated by Sir Kenneth Clark will be shown at the Greenbelt Library, free of charge, starting on Sept. 14. The series depicts the artistic and cultural achievements of Western Man. It currently is showing to overflow audiences at the Metropolitan Museum in New York City and the National Gallery in Washington, D. C.

The series will be shown on Mondays at 7:30 p.m. in the Meeting Room starting Sept. 14 with "The Skin of Our Teeth", on Sept. 21 "The Great Thaw". On Sept. 28, "Romance and Reality" will be shown.

For the children there will be book discussion groups held every Wednesday during the month for children ages 10-12 in the Conference Room from 7 to 8 p.m.

Show Time will be on Saturdays from 2 to 3 p.m. in the Meeting Room for children ages 6-12. These films will be shown: Sept. 19, "Puppets" and "Siam: People of Thailand"; Sept. 26, "Paddle-to-the-Sea," "Heritage of the Chesapeake," and "Study in Wet." Storytime Registration will be held at 2 p.m. in the Conference Room on Sept. 21 for three-year-olds, and on Sept. 24 for four and five-year-olds. For young adults there will be a Folk Sing on Wednesday, Sept. 23, from 7:30 to 10 p.m. in the Meeting Room.

Public Hearing on the Location of Franklin Roosevelt Senior High School

The Board of Education of Prince George's County has scheduled a public hearing at the Greenbelt Junior High School on Tuesday, September 29, 1970 at 8 p.m., in accordance with section 47 (b) of the 1969 Public School Laws.

The public hearing is on the location of the new Franklin Roosevelt Senior High School.

Persons or organizations desiring to be heard at the meeting should so indicate in advance, if at all possible, their intention to present testimony. Notification may be given to Edward Feeney, Administrative Assistant to the Superintendent of Schools, Prince George's County Public Schools, Upper Marlboro, Maryland 20870, telephone 627-4800.

Long Distance Races

A total of 108 runners and joggers, including 36 Greenbelters, participated in the two long-distance races held as part of the athletic competition of the Labor Day Festival. In the D.C. AAU 15 Kilo (9.3 miles) Junior Championship and Open race nationally-ranked Bob Scharf, Washington Sports Club, broke his own course record by running 46:07. It was a close race, with Bob Thurston and Ed Ayres finishing only 8 seconds later. The first Greenbelter, Larry Noel (20) finished 7th in 50:55. John Hanyok 19th, Milt Greenbaum 25th, Bill Casey 26th, Mike Talbot 30th, Alexander Barnes 32nd and Hugh Jascourt 35th in a field of 45.

In the 1 1/4 mile run, which started and finished at the tennis courts on Braden Field and went once around the lake path, Walter Boehm (41) set a record likely to stand for some time, as he ran the distance in 9:03, winning by over a minute. He is a nationally-ranked runner in his age group. First Greenbelter of the 29 residents among the 63 runners and joggers was Milt Greenbaum, who was third in 10:07. Bob Bicknell was 25th in 11:47 and Drew Talbot was 29th in 12:04. Complete results will be posted on Twin Pines bulletin board.

Twenty prizes were awarded to the runners in the longest race, and all Greenbelters received trophies in the 1 1/4 mile, courtesy of the Festival Committee and the D.C. Road Runners Club.

Community Church Program

"Black Hope in a Free Land" is the theme of a three-week worship and study experience being offered to the community by Greenbelt Community Church. On Sunday, September 13, the Heritage United Church of Christ Choir will sing during the regular communion worship service. This choir has appeared repeatedly around the Washington and Baltimore area and has recently recorded.

On Sunday, September 20, the Rev. Francis X. Piraxini, Conference Minister of the Central Atlantic Conference of the United Church of Christ, will explain the action being taken in the area to help the Black Man achieve his freedom in our society.

On Sunday, September 27, the newly appointed Secretary to the Black Ministries for the United Church of Christ nationally will bring a message of hope to a nation which has accepted the freedom of the black people in this country as the conscience of American Society. The Rev. James H. Hargett will be meeting all afternoon and evening with leaders of many churches in the area to help them in their planning to aid the Black Man to find freedom in the United States.

Perimeter Road Status Report

What is the status of the perimeter road?

This road, designed to approximately parallel the city's eastern northern, and western boundaries, is at this moment merely a dotted line on the map.

It has taken on new urgency as the feasibility of a three-school complex on parcel 2 begins to depend more and more on how close to reality the prospects are of having an alternate road to help siphon off school traffic that would otherwise clog the existing roads of Greenbelt's core.

As the result of presentations made by the city council, the county legislative delegation to Annapolis and other interested bodies to the Governor's office, the State Roads Commission last March agreed to make a preliminary engineering study of the perimeter road. This study will determine the design feasibility of the road and consider such matters as curbs, shoulders, drainage, and probable alignment.

A public hearing to consider the need for the facility and its design will probably be held early next year.

There has been as yet no commitment of State Funds for construction or maintenance of the perimeter road. SRC has long held that the perimeter road would not qualify as a State roads facility because it would not serve a State function. The road is confined within the boundaries of Greenbelt and its need arises out of the proposed construction of local school facilities, an official of the SRC's Bureau of Highway Planning told the News Review. Moreover, the road problems in Prince Georges County are already staggering and he thought the perimeter road would thus be low on the priority list.

However, he said, the road might later qualify as a state road if road service to the schools becomes a problem in an area where a major State road becomes impacted. He also pointed out that political and citizen pressures do hold weight and that elected officials have the final say.

The SRC acts in an advisory capacity. In the fall of each year its recommendations are considered by the county commissioners and the county delegation, who must make the final selections.

At the present time, the Greenbelt perimeter road is in the State's 20-year needs program, where initial study is given to proposed roads, even those that are dubious. If the perimeter road is given favorable attention by the county commissioners and the county delegation and passes the full legislature, then the road would be placed in the five-year construction program.

sewage readily available, and the setting unique and beautiful for a school. Mrs. Dorothy Sucher reminded the audience that the city as a whole fought long and hard for parcel 15 in 1966 and this was because the majority of the citizens felt the site was preferable.

Support for parcel 2

MNCPPC officials, however, generally defended the parcel 2 site, provided the perimeter road became a reality. Wilkinson felt that without a perimeter road, traffic access to parcel 15 would be better. Robertson, in support of the parcel 2 site, noted that construction plans for the senior high school are nearly complete and that the school is badly overdue. He said that communities all around Greenbelt are taking Greenbelt children into their schools and their own children are being penalized. He conceded, however, that the new senior high school will accommodate 2,400 students, over half of whom will be from out of Greenbelt.

Robertson also said that the sewage problems on parcel 2 could be solved. He said that a temporary sewage package plant which was suggested by the Washington Suburban Sanitary Commission, could be installed and was entirely practical and not objectionable.

Smith-Ewing Property

Few Lakeside residents at the meeting supported the positioning of a three-school complex on parcel 2. The general sentiment seemed to be that parcel 2 was a bad site, parcel 15 might be somewhat better, but that the preferable solution would be another site entirely. The Smith-Ewing tract, which lies immediately north of Greenbelt Road and east of the Baltimore-Washington Parkway, was mentioned frequently.

Robertson objected to the Smith-Ewing property on the grounds that like parcel 2 it had sewage problems. In addition, he pointed out, students could not walk and the access was not good. All school traffic, he said, would have to exit on Greenbelt Road, creating intolerable jams. Wilkinson, however disagreed, saying that the Smith-Ewing property would offer a fairly good accessible road system.

Perimeter Road

Both Robertson and Wilkinson admitted that the perimeter road could not possibly be finished when the school was completed. The State Roads Commission has some funds for planning, but no decision has been made as to whether any State funds would be available for construction.

A major cost obstacle cited was the bridge over the Baltimore-Washington Parkway. Both Giese and Robertson stated that the Federal Government would not grant permission for a tie-in with the NASA interchange. Several members from the audience suggested that the perimeter road be built only in one direction from parcel 2 west to Kenilworth Ave. It was acknowledged by Wilkinson that access roads to parcel 15 or Smith-Ewing would not cost anything like the expense of the perimeter road.

Both White and Giese stressed that whatever traffic conditions might be created by a senior high school on parcel 15 or Smith-Ewing, these were nothing as compared to having all senior high school traffic funneled through a mile or so of Greenbelt's narrow residential roads if parcel 2 were chosen.

3-School Complex

Some members of the audience objected to the concept of a three-school complex, whether on parcel 2 or Smith-Ewing. Mrs. Rosetti questioned the desirability of the complex since she felt it could generate social problems. Opposed to the concept was Fred Balluch, principal of an elementary school located near a junior and senior high school in Washington, D.C. Drawing from his own observations, Balluch cited incidents such as "shakedowns" of the younger children for their lunch money and attempts by older students to entice younger ones to take drugs.

Robertson, however, defended the three-school complex, citing such educational benefits as joint use of laboratories, libraries, and other facilities.

Rosenzweig - Kolmus

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rosenzweig, 4-E Crescent, announce the marriage of their daughter, Phyllis, to Peter Kolmus, son of Mrs. Mary Kolmus, Binghampton, N. Y., on Aug. 31.

The bride is a junior at the University of Maryland, majoring in mathematics. Mr. Kolmus is a candidate for his Ph. D. in mathematics at the University of Maryland.

The couple will reside in College Park.

Softball Result

The quarter finals in the winners bracket began Friday evening with Ledos trouncing the N.S.A. Spoofers, and Wildwood Manor Esso squeaking past The Arlington All Stars. In the last game Fred and Harry's eliminated Maryvale Market 11-12. Kash Realtor, Arlington All Stars, N.S.A. Spoofers, and M&J were eliminated Saturday during that day's exciting play. In the winner's bracket Wildwood Esso defeated Ledos to remain the only undefeated team. In final play on Sunday, Ledos lost to Fred and Harry's, 9-12. In game 30 the loser's bracket winner, Fred and Harry's, unseated Wildwood Esso by scoring the catch-up and winning runs in the bottom of the seventh. With one loss each, the two teams met in the final tournament game, where Wildwood capture the Championship trophy, 3-1.

Greenbelt Grab-bag

by Punchin' Judy

Like most voters, I have become confused by the great number of candidates competing in the coming primary. Feeling the need of expert advice, I decided to consult my old friend, J. Imlick Naven.

J. I., naturally, was on the phone, undoubtedly consummating some sort of big deal. His young son, however, was eager to chat, so I shrewdly took him aside to see what I could learn.

"Junior," I cooed, "I bet you have learned a lot about politics from your Daddy."

"You'd better believe it," the little fellow assured me.

"Well, look, son, would you know anything about how your family decides for whom to vote?"

"Sure. Hey, you gotta quarter? I'll show you a trick."

I handed him a quarter. He took the quarter, examined it, regretfully decided it wasn't silver. Then he did the trick, which didn't work, and pocketed the quarter.

"Now, about the elections," I reminded him.

"Oh, yeah. Say, did you go to the Labor Day Parade?"

"Of course. I haven't missed one in 17 years."

"Seventeen years - oh wow!

Maybe you ought to sit in this rocker - it's real comfortable.

"No, no, I'm fine, but about the elections . . ."

"Don't blow your jets, I'm getting to that. You know how the candidates sit on the Caddy convertibles and throw stuff to the kids?"

"I do," I admitted, fingering the bruise on my leg where the bubble gum landed on Monday.

"Well, us kids keep track. A balloon is worth one point, candy is two points, unless it's chocolate, in which case it's worth three, the same as bubble gum."

"Three points," I repeated, scribbling rapidly in my little notebook. "But surely that isn't the only way to judge candidates."

"Naah, there are other ways. Like if they remember your name and they can like do you a favor."

"But what about campaign promises and integrity and past records?"

"I don't know nothing about old, I just listen to the Top Twenty on WHEE. Hey if you got another quarter I'll show you a different trick."

"Never mind; I'd better go home and read some more campaign literature."

So I went home and read the campaign literature. But don't

Homemakers Open Season

The first meeting of the season of Greenbelt Homemakers will be held at the home of Mrs. Virginia Schuldiner, 5 Pinecrest Ct., on Wednesday, Sept. 16 at 6:30 p.m. Members and guests will enjoy a pot luck supper, with each member bringing a favorite dish. The hostess will serve the beverage, rolls and butter.

A workshop is planned on Sept. 23 at 8 p.m. at the home of the club president, Mrs. Winnie Phibbs, 29-B Ridge Rd. Projects for the workshop will include the making of footstools from 46 oz. juice cans and also the making of Christmas angels from plastic gallon or 1/2 gallon size bleach bottles.

Ladies of Greenbelt are welcome to join with the members at either affair.

bother me right now. I've got to count some balloons and bubble gum.

Jaycees Plan Lake Clean-up

The Greenbelt Jaycees will hold their Annual Clean Up the Lake project on Saturday, September 19, at 9:30 a.m. at the Greenbelt Lake. The project will be mainly concerned with cleaning up the debris in the water, most of the work being done from row boats and in hip boots. The main source of pollution stems from the two tributaries that feed the lake and this area will be where the main effort will be concentrated. The city will help by supplying trucks and drivers to carry away the debris. If you would like to help or would like more information, please call the Project Chairman Jim Daffron at 474-5054.

At their September 3 meeting, the Greenbelt Jaycees, through their president, David Conley, presented a plaque to the News Review commending the paper for its efforts and cooperation in reporting events contributing toward civic and social advancement. News Review president Al Skolnik accepted the plaque on behalf of the paper's staff.

What kind of investment is Freedom Shares?

☐ Shrewd? ☐ Safe? ☐ Patriotic? ☐ Exclusive?

You're right if you checked all four boxes.

Freedom Shares are a shrewd investment because they pay 4.74% when held to maturity. They mature in just four-and-a-half years, and are redeemable after one year.

There is no safer investment because Freedom Shares are backed by The United States of America.

Exclusive? Absolutely.
Not everyone can buy new Freedom Shares.

You have to belong to the Bond-a-Month or Payroll Savings Plan. Freedom Shares are a bonus opportunity for these regular Bond buyers.

And, as you help yourself by buying Freedom Shares, you're also helping your country. Sign up for Freedom. Get all the facts from the payroll people where you work or any officer where you bank.

Birthday greetings to Marla Lynn Goldstein, 6-Y Plateau, who celebrates her twelfth birthday on September 15.

In town for two weeks are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Long of Fort Lauderdale, Florida. Greenbelt pioneers, they can be reached at 474-9492.

Welcome back after short holidays to Gary Stenhouse, Assistant City Manager, and Doris Cottingham, secretary to the City Manager. The Stenhouse family visited relatives in Massachusetts and Rhode Island, and the Cotingtons vacationed in Wisconsin.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery to Shirley Meredith, who was chairman of the Festival Queen contest.

Pearl Elizabeth Crowe Thomas, 6225 Springhill Court, received an M.A. in speech and hearing therapy from Ball State University, Muncie, Indiana.

David Smit, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Smit, 110 Tamarisk Court, and his wife Ann, are in Turkey for a three-year term of service under the United Church Board for World Ministries. They are both teaching at the Tarsus American College in Tarsus, Turkey. The school has an enrollment of 370 boys, aged 11 to 20.

Gregory T. Loftus, 7-J Crescent Rd., received a Master's degree in psychology from Michigan State U. this summer.

Michael Bates, aged 12, placed fourth in Maryland Frisbee Competition, according to a story in the Prince George's Sentinel.

He won the county semifinals with 18 points. Michael first began "frisbee-ing" four years ago, while living with his family in England.

Navy Fireman Thomas L. Falter, son of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Falter, 4-B Gardenway, has reported for duty aboard the combat stores ship USS White Plains in the Western Pacific.

The Donkis family, who formerly lived at 126 Northway, spent the past week visiting Shirley's family in Greenbelt.

Labor Day Pet Show

Many Greenbelt pets marched proudly home Saturday after showing off their qualities at the Labor Day Pet Show. Dogs, cats and a conglomeration of other pets competed for first through fourth place ribbons in many categories. The pet that received the nod for the most unusual was, believe it or not, a hermit crab. Somewhere in Greenbelt is a proud catfish, who won first place for the longest whiskers. In all, there were nearly one hundred entries gathered, and would you believe - not a single dog-cat chase; nor a cat-hamster chase? It was indeed a lovable gathering, and one that seemed to be thoroughly enjoyed by pets and masters alike.

The Pet Show Committee included Joe and Joy Emerson, Marie Weber, Kermit Opperman, Donna Crays, and Pat McCaffrey. Judges were Arlene Buscher, Charles Kiddy, Roland Scheck, George Farrell, and Jack Fuller.

First place winners in the Pet Show were as follows:

Categories

Closest to ground: Ginger Owens, highest from ground: Bonnie Hayes, longest ears: Bonnie Mackenzie, saddest face: Kathy Douglas, most unusual trick: Vicki Taylor, funniest costume: Sue Allen, best dressed: Valera Adair.

Longest cat: Diane Patrick, biggest ears: Theresa Alfara, blackest cat: Kermit Opperman, heaviest cat: Kermit Opperman, whitest cat: Linda Callahan, most colorful: The Bracken family, longest hair: Mr. Dean, smallest cat: Michael Reeves.

Loudest noise: Tawny Nelson (parakeet), longest pet: George Beauchamp (king snake), smallest pet: Susan Balch (guppy, longest whiskers: Mike Reynolds (catfish), least mobil: George Beauchamp (king snake), longest tail feathers: Tawny Nelson (parakeet), most unusual: Ginger Gordon (2 hermit crabs).

Swim Team News

by Mike "Turtle" Jones

The Greenbelt Novice meet, the meet for the good guys who finish last—or at any rate haven't finished first, second, or third during the past year—was held last Saturday, with Andy Feeney taking top honors for Greenbelt by winning three gold medals. Other gold medals for first place were awarded to Bridget Osborne and Karen Coyne. Second place silver medals were awarded to Ralph Jones (3), Lorrie Adair, Ann Marie Mongelli, P. Bram and Karen Coyne. Placing third and winning bronze medals were Glenn Adair (2) Billy Patton, Laura Mongelli, Matt Durantine, Joni Gillen, Karen Coyne, Karen Coloe, M. Bagster-Collins, and John Hanlon.

The Greenbelt novice meet was the last meet of the summer and officially closes the Princemont Swim League 1970 season.

YOU NEED
AS
County Commissioner
COUNTY DEMOCRATS '70

FERD understands the needs of Prince Georges County:

- for a more equitable state aid program to relieve the taxpayer of the major burden of financing our expanding school system . . .
- to continue to strive for quality education as a means of attracting industry . . .
- for more industrial and commercial enterprises to add to our revenue rather than dependency upon the property tax as a source for financing County government . . .
- to avoid deviating from our master plans and to avoid high density population areas which affect the school enrollments . . .
- Ferd's lobbying in Annapolis has shown proof of his concern for the taxpayers in our County . . .
